

I intend to go to see you and Simeon next winter if God spares me my health. I want to see you so very much. Your sister Susan sends her love to you all and wants to see you very much. She says that she wants to go over to see you shortly if her life is spared. Your sisters Maria and Eliza and Sally and Mary all send you their love and best wishes to James and Thomas and Betsy Ann and her husband and Simeon and all your children. I expect James and Thomas over next summer. All your old neighbours and friends that survive is well. Susan's two daughters, Caroline and Eliza is married and Caroline has got a fine you son. Her husband's name is Henry McMinn and Eliza is married to Solomon Dean, two nice young men. We want you to write to us as soon as this comes to hand. You can send over letters in the stage that runs to Aroostook and we can get it very easily. Maria has married her daughter Betsy Ann. She has married Jacob Grass. We shall expect a letter from you the first opportunity without fail. Tell Simeon that we all want to see him and we received your presents you sent to us all by Fanny. The dried apples you sent we received and the apples that you sent us by Mf. Arnold he gave them to your father. I wish I was with you to get a good glass of your cider but when you drink it you must think of me and when you eat your good apples you must think of us all. No more at present, I conclude with love to you all, write soon, do not fail.

Your tender Mother till death,
Elizabeth Kenney
